From Montreux to Interlaken: A fascinating journey between lakes and mountains

The GoldenPass Express offers a direct connection without change between Montreux and Interlaken in 3 hours and 15 minutes. Revolutionary technology with variable track gauge makes the dream a reality. Passengers are greeted by a welcome desk at the platform and inside the train your immersion will be extended by the infotainment.

HISTORY

The idea of linking Lake Geneva, Gstaad and the lakes of Thun and Brienz dates back to 1873. At that time, it was already a question of uniting three major tourist regions. The railway tracks are finally built differently: metric (1 m) between Montreux and Zweisimmen and normal gauge (1,435 m) between Zweisimmen and Interlaken.

With a variable gauge bogie and a spreading ramp, the GoldenPass Express is able to move from one track to another. This switching system from the metric gauge to the normal gauge is a world first.

Thanks to the spreading ramp in Zweisimmen, the bogie spreads, allowing the train to change from the metric track (1 m) to the normal track (1 m 435) and vice versa. The carriage also rises, adapting to the different platform heights (55 cm on the normal track, 35 cm on the metric track).

It was in 1931 that the "Compagnie Internationale des Wagons-Lits" from Paris introduced the Golden Mountain Pullman Express between Montreux and Zweisimmen, a luxury train based on the Orient Express, which would be closed one year later due to the global economic crisis. Since 2005, GoldenPass Belle Epoque has brought that legendary train back to life with its beautiful Belle Epoque coaches and the Chalet coach.

FUNICULAR TERRITET — GLION

Between Territet and Glion runs one of Switzerland's oldest funicular railways, with incomparable charm. What's even more amazing is that it takes you back one hundred years to the Belle Epoque. After a short 600 m ride to Glion, a breathtaking view of Lake Geneva awaits you.
