Endless possibilities

Welcome to the country with the world's densest public transport network. Wherever you wish to go – there's a connection.

In Switzerland, every location is accessible. Train, bus, boat and mountain railways are perfectly coordinated. Long waiting times? Not in this Alpine nation. When the train arrives, bus and boat are already waiting in walking distance. Travelling can be so easy.

Get inspired: switzerland.com/travelswitzerland

Discover the country in all its diversity; on nostalgic cog railways, through ceiling-high train windows, and on state-of-the-art boats. Variety coupled with punctuality, comfort and gastronomic highlights – that's travelling the Swiss way.

Sustainable travel in Switzerland

Besides offering unparalleled comfort, travelling around Switzerland by public transport is also easy on the environment.

In Switzerland, more and more trains are powered by sustainable energy sources. And even aboard certain boats, guests can travel knowing that their trip is climate neutral – for example on Lake Lucerne. Energy efficiency is also a priority for a growing number of mountain railways, which store the break energy on the downhill journey, which is then used to power the train during its ascent.

Preserving Switzerland's beauty

While you enjoy panoramic views and get kissed by the sun, solar energy covers part of the energy needs of facilities linked to public transport. This goes a long way in helping to preserve the country's natural beauty, which guests like yourself treasure so much. Switzerland Tourism recognises companies that demonstrate their commitment to becoming ever more sustainable with its "SwiSustainable" label. Train, bus and boat operators consistently rank among the top in their field.
