The perfect network.

The Swiss Travel System.

Railjet at the Lake Walensee, St. Gallen

A perfect network.

- Short distances
- Direct connections to airports
- Regular interval timetables
- InterCity trains at 30-minute intervals
- No seat reservation required

A system of superlatives.

- Switzerland has the densest public transport network in the world
- On average, every Swiss citizen makes 53 train journeys per year, totalling 2,398 kilometres – a world record
- In Switzerland there is a passenger train every 9 minutes
- 291,000 seats – almost the entire population of Iceland could travel by train in Switzerland at the same time
- 500 minor changes are made to the timetable each day (cargo trains, special trains or disruptions)
- 1 Swiss Travel System – 460 different transportation companies

World record attempt – The world's longest passenger train.

- In honor of the Swiss Railways' 175th anniversary, the Rhaetian Railway company managed on October 29 2022 to string together 25 modern Capricorn engines and 100 carriages
- The resulting train measured a staggering 1910 meters in length
- At a speed of 30 to 35 km/h, the Rhaetian Railway train negotiated some 789 meters of altitude from Preda via Bergün to Alvaneu

Milestones of the Swiss Travel System.

Technical features

Switch from the metric track to the standard track

In terms of technology, this train is unique worldwide as it switches from the metric track (between Montreux and Zweisimmen) to the normal track (between Zweisimmen and Interlaken) in a few seconds.

In addition, the coach is raised by 20 cm, thus adapting to the higher platform.

This 100% Swiss achievement was made possible by a revolutionary variable gauge and a gauge ramp in Zweisimmen.

GoldenPass Express.

Good to know

- Year-round operation
- Three travel classes: Prestige, 1st and 2nd class
- The journey is fully covered by the Swiss Travel Pass and other tickets

Well connected – in Swiss cities.

Bus at the station in Lucerne

Urban transport.

- All airports are perfectly connected to the public transport network. At Geneva and Zurich airport, a train station is located right within the airport
- Trams and boats operate at regular intervals and take travellers wherever they want
- Museums are easily-to-reach; over 500 are included in the Swiss Travel Pass
- Some cities even have river boats

Tram in front of FIFA museum in Zurich

City-to-city connections.

Travellers at the main station Zurich

- Regular connections and short distances from one city to the next
- To nature and mountains in no time
- Perfect for guests, who prefer to stay in one hotel
- Day trips are possible to almost everywhere

Well connected internationally.

- From Germany, Austria, Italy or France straight to Switzerland – from city centre to city centre
- Comfortable arrival thanks to numerous direct connections
- Travelling on international trains with a lot of elbow-room, catering facilities and various onboard services

A respite for you and nature.

Sustainability in public transport – 5 facts.

1

Only pedestrians and bicycles are more ecological than the railway.

2

50 percent less CO₂ until 2025 (SBB)

3

An electric car produces 13 times more CO₂

4

Train platform of the future: 80% from recycled material (planned)

5

SBB operates with 90% and Rhaetian Railway with 100% hydropower

Did you know..?

- .. that a train ride produces 27 times less CO₂ than a comparable car drive?
- .. that SBB owns seven hydroelectric plants?
- .. that SBB is planning to cover 100% of its electricity requirement from renewable energy sources by 2025?
- .. that railway traffic only contributes 0.2 percent to the total of CO₂ emissions of overall traffic?
- .. that the railway is and remains the environmentally friendliest motorised means of transportation?

“MobiCat” Lake Biel.

Solar catamaran “MobiCat” on Lake Biel

- World's largest solar catamaran
- Since 2001, over 40,000 people have been transported using solar power alone
- First self-driving solar power plant in the world
- Also supplies the local electricity grid with energy

MS Diamant – climate-neutral on the Lake.

- Switzerland's first climate-neutral course boat
- Thanks to the hybrid drive, lower fuel consumption and less CO2 emissions
- SGV AG has entered into a non-profit partnership with the myclimate foundation

MS Diamant on Lake Lucerne, Central Switzerland

Rhaetian Railway – Hydroelectric power on rails.

Rhaetian Railway at Lago Bianco, Grisons

- Since 2013 the RhB has obtained 100% of the electrical energy for traction vehicles and real estate from hydropower
- Ongoing optimizations: renewable heating energy, modern recycling concepts etc.

Brunni – climate-neutral mountain railway company.

- 130,000 kWh is produced thanks to their own solar power plants → more energy than is necessary for the snowmaking on the slopes
- Warm water and heating are obtained from ground water
- Chair lift turns off automatically when no one is using it

Brunni

Funi – a marvel of the art of engineering.

- Switzerland's last existing hydro-powered funicular
- Without electricity or exhaust fumes
- Is not powered by a motor but by residual water from the upper town
- Uses filtered waste water from a 3,000-litre tank and thus overcomes 56.4 metres in altitude

Funiculare in Fribourg

SBB – Switzerland biggest provider of sustainable mobility.

SBB train with vineyards in the background, Lake Geneva Region

- Runs with 90% hydropower
- Energy procurement for stations, offices as well as company and production buildings is already 100 percent CO2-neutral
- By 2025, all electricity is planned to come from renewable sources
- SBB contributes substantially to sustainable mobility in Switzerland
- For instance with “adaptive control”, also dubbed “green wave”. The system provides recommendations to the train drivers so that they can avoid unplanned stops at halt signals and drive in a more environmentally friendly way

Gornergrat Railway: passengers produce energy on the way down.

- Recuperation brakes: the motional energy of the train is converted into electrical energy
- During the ride back down into the valley, this energy is fed back into the overhead line
- With the energy recovery of three descents, up to two ascents can be supplied with energy

Mountain Day Trips.

Mountain Day Trips.

Have a hip breakfast in an old town café, stop in the mountain hut at noon and dance to the rhythm of the city in a trendy bar in the evening.

In Switzerland this is possible. Thanks to the densest public transport network in the world.

Mountain Day Trips.

- From the city straight to the mountains and back again – in one day
- And that very conveniently with public transport
- Possible from any city in Switzerland

By train, bus and boat straight to the hiking highlights.

Hiking in the Lake Geneva Region

- Thanks to train, bus, boat and mountain railway, the starting point to any hiking trip is easy to reach
- Any hike can be paused and sections done by mountain railway & co.
- Whether easy circular walks or more ambitious hiking tours – start and end points are always well connected to public transport

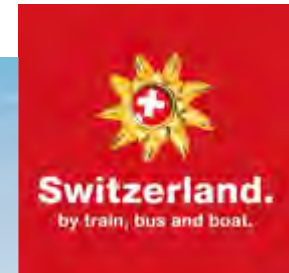

Train and Bike.

- Planning the train-and-bike adventure.
 - In order to help with the planning of outdoor activities, all routes are linked to the timetable at schweizmobil.ch.
- Combining rent-a-bicycle and railway adventure.
 - Renting at one place and returning at another – namely at one out of some 200 “rent-a-bike” stations (80 of which are located at railway stations)
- Individual bicycle transport within Switzerland.
- Shipping bicycles in Switzerland as luggage.
